Center for Smart Use of Technologies to Assess Real World Outcomes

Seeking Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Faculty Leader
Shirley Ryan AbilityLab and Northwestern University
Center for Smart Use of Technologies to Assess Real World Outcomes (C-STAR)

Shirley Ryan AbilityLab in collaboration with Northwestern University and the Center for Smart Use of Technologies to Assess Real World Outcomes (C-STAR) seeks a candidate for a 0.2 FTE position to lead diversity, equity and inclusion efforts as part of C-STAR's Infrastructure activities. C-STAR is funded by the National Center for Medical Rehabilitation Research through April 30, 2025.

Qualified candidates will hold a faculty position at Northwestern University, Shirley Ryan AbilityLab, or one of our affiliates. C-STAR will provide up to 20% salary support to fulfill the role described below.

Candidates should hold a DPT, OTD, MD/DO, or a PhD in a bioengineering, rehabilitation sciences, psychology, medical and social science, implementation science, or a related field.

This is an ideal position for an early career researcher seeking to increase their local and national leadership profile. Responsibilities will include overseeing and directing activities of administrative staff related to the promotion of diversity, equity, and inclusion in rehabilitation research. The C-STAR DEI faculty member will lead the following activities, but additional activities may be identified and developed:

- Researching approaches to promote diversity and inclusion and make recommendations to P2C leadership
- Developing and leading a diversity outreach mentorship series
- Building rapport and developing strategic partnerships with minority serving institutions and professional organizations
- Recruiting early career faculty from diverse backgrounds for pilot project and mentorship programs
- Recruiting faculty, post docs, grad students, and undergraduates from minority serving institutions for quarterly Technology Networking Hour events
- Representing C-STAR during monthly network partners meetings

To inquire about this opportunity, please contact Shannon Stanfill, C-STAR project manager, at sstanfill@sralab.org.