Innovations in Clinical Inquiry: Reaching Toward Health Equity
100% Distanced Learning | Thursday, March 10, 2022

This one-day, virtual course provides a unique opportunity for nurses to pursue their clinical questions through scholarship, clinical inquiry, research, innovation, pediatric evidence-based practice and translational science (SCRIPTS). Specific tools to support the development of a research project will be reviewed, and current projects spearheaded by nurse researchers will be shared. Attendees will have the opportunity to network with nurse scientists to help translate their own ideas into new research studies.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Janice Phillips, PhD, RN, CENP, FAAN
Dr. Janice Phillips is an experienced clinician, researcher, educator, nurse regulator, author, and public policy advocate in the health care arena. As the Director of Nursing Research and Health Equity at Rush University Medical Center and an Associate Professor in the College of Nursing, Dr. Phillips serves as a system wide leader in supporting health equity as a shared goal and integrating health equity across the Rush Health system's education, research, and clinical endeavors.

Ruth Kleinpell, PhD, RN, FAAN
Dr. Ruth Kleinpell is Associate Dean for Clinical Scholarship, Independence Foundation Chair of Nursing Education, and Professor at Vanderbilt University School of Nursing. She is certified as an Acute Care Nurse Practitioner (ACNP), and is known nationally for her work on advanced ACNP role development.
